

THIS PART IS FOR PARIS PEPPER-MR PEPPER-XAVIER BOX-BRIAN BOX-PART 2

Paris: Luck had nothing to do with it. I was determined to have a ticket.

SW: So how many chocolate bars did you have to open before you found the ticket?

Paris: Oh, I didn't open any.

Mr Pepper: No I had my staff do it.

SW: Yes Mr. Pepper, you own the biggest manufacturer of baby toilet training apparatus in the world.

Mr. Pepper: That's right, Pepper Pots. 'If it's number ones or number twos, Pepper Pots are the ones to choose.'

SW: Yes. Very catchy.

Mr. Pepper: I had my entire factory down tools and start opening all the chocolate bars I could get hold of. After only six thousand seven hundred and forty nine bars we found the ticket my lovely Paris deserved.

SW: (To Paris) So you didn't open a single bar?

Paris: Of course not, it's easy to break a nail opening chocolate bars.

SW: So it is. (To camera) And now back to the studio.

Lights go out on SW and the others.

JT: So there is just one ticket left and only two days before the lucky winners get to see inside the Wonder chocolate factory.

Blackout