

THIS PIECE IS FOR JULIUS SCOOP-KALIDA SCOOP-LAVENDER BUDGERIGAR-MRS BUDGERIGAR-PART 1

Charlotte presses an oversized remote control and the TV studio set lights up.

DS: You're watching Newsday with me, Dan Stroller.

The news from our Hollywood health correspondent is that Tom Cruise has got a nasty bruise, Brad Pitt has a massive zit, Jack Black has a bad back and Harry Styles has a bad case of... The flu. And now it's back to our main story and there is still no news of anyone finding any of Wonder's sort after Golden Tickets.

Julius: (From the audience) I got one, I got a golden ticket!

Julius runs down the aisle waving the ticket and exits.

DS: I have just been told some breaking news, the first golden ticket has been found, we can go over to our reporter on the spot Louise Munchkin.

LM at edge of stage by DS, she has with her Julius and his mother Kalida.

LM: Yes Jimmy, it's the news the world has been waiting for and I have with me the lucky winner of the first golden ticket, Julius Scoop, and he is accompanied by his mother, Kalida Scoop. Mrs. Scoop, you must be very proud of your son?

Kalida: Oh yes, he is my pride and joy.

LM: The odds of finding one of the tickets were millions to one, how many bars of Wonder's chocolate did Julius have to eat before he found the ticket?

Kalida: Well, he found it by lunch time on the first day.

LM: So how many bars would he have eaten?

Kalida: (Thinks) Six hundred and twenty four.

LM: (Shocked) Six hundred and twenty four by lunch time?

Julius: Yes, I got up late.

LM: Isn't all that chocolate a bit unhealthy?

Kalida: Oh, I always see that he gets his five fruit and veg a day.
